

DTP Testimonial:

I was an intern with the DTP for 12 days over the Winter break in 2016. I greatly enjoyed my time with the DTP and feel I have learned a lot, both about particular areas of human rights, and about the organisation and operation of an NGO. I was given the option of undertaking different tasks to and the DTP team made an effort to ensure I was given the opportunity to pursue a task that aligned with my interests. I was able to be involved in research tasks on migrant workers' rights for the upcoming migrant workers e-bulletin and I enjoyed learning about the various UN processes and how people and civil society organisations can actually participate in them. I was also able to do several administrative tasks including looking into how the finances of the organisation work. I found this interesting and useful as I don't know much about finance and yet it is so vital to how an organisation like the DTP operates. I was also able to attend the various meetings held during my internship and found it interesting to listen to the process of productive discussion and learn more about the organisation and the different things it's currently working on.

Everyone at DTP was very kind and welcoming and made me feel like part of the team. It was a really friendly workplace where collaboration was made easy and enjoyable and where I always felt encouraged to ask questions and to learn as much as possible.

Thank you so much for having me and teaching me so much. I really enjoyed my internship with you. All the best!
