

Jinan Hammoudi – Testimonial

I became involved in the Diplomacy Training Program (DTP) Winter Internship through my Law studies at UNSW. Completing the program over the course of a month, I was able to gain insight into the ways in which the DTP advances human rights and empowers civil society in the Asia Pacific region.

I was involved in a broad range of tasks, ranging from performing country background research; developing a social media plan; redesigning documents, such as bulletins and e-newsletters; and even conducting and filming an interview with an alumnus from DTP programs. Being involved in such a broad range of activities enabled me to get a glimpse of the work performed by DTP, and make a positive contribution to the organisation.

I worked with a team of enthusiastic and driven interns, who contributed to a beneficial and enjoyable learning experience.

Many thanks to the DTP team, who were all very welcoming, and allowed me to feel as part of the team from day one! I enjoyed sitting in on the team meetings and joining in on very nuanced discussions. I thoroughly enjoyed the experience, and look forward to seeing more of the DTP in future!
