On 07/08/2005 In Prembag Union under Noyapara Upazilla in Jessore District, a group of young volunteers took the initiative to help to protect environment. In the same year, they decided to form a social organization called Jibon Unnoyon Sangstha (JUS).

Having registered with the Social Welfare Directorate in 2008. JUS went from strength to strength working on divergent issues such as water and sanitation, acid violence, Education, micro credit and human trafficking.

Our experience over 15 years has led us to view development in a specific way, moving away from service delivery to a rights based approach focused on participation, empowerment, equity and responsibility. Today, we work on local government, child rights, protecting freedoms and environmental sustainability.

Overall, JUS can be best described as:

“An Initiative to establish Human Rights and working together for underprivileged children”

Over the past 15 years, JUS has started to implement the rights-based approach to development.

We are now mainstreaming in the following programmes.

- ♣ Human rights & Equity
- ♣ Education
- ♣ Health
- ♣ Environment
- ♣ Youth development

¹ The Diplomacy Training Program (DTP) is an NGO affiliated with the Faculty of Law at UNSW in Sydney. Since 1990, it has provided training to over 2600 human rights defenders and community advocates. These individuals work for a wide range of organisations working to promote shared values of human rights – in different ways. This profile is part of a series developed by DTP (www.dtp.unsw.edu.au) to illustrate the richness and diversity of the organisations working to promote the rights of migrant workers and human rights more broadly.
